NRX STRENGTHENS SENIOR MANAGEMENT TEAM

NRX Global Inc. Appoints Three Industry Veterans as Senior Vice Presidents

TORONTO, CANADA – October 7, 2009 - NRX Global Inc. has dramatically strengthened its senior management team with the appointments of three new Senior Vice Presidents, each of whom is a respected veteran of the enterprise software industry.

Richard Neidert, a deeply experienced technology industry executive, has joined NRX Global as Senior Vice President of Global Sales, Service and Marketing. Dan King, formerly General Legal Counsel for NRX, has been appointed the position of Senior Vice President of Operations. Dennis Wu, formerly VP of Development for NRX, has been appointed Senior Vice President of Engineering.

CEO and President Gregory Slayton commented “Dan King, Dennis Wu and Richard Neidert are top professionals in their areas – some of the best in the business. They will provide the leadership, the teamwork and the intellectual firepower NRX needs to expand our leadership position in the Asset Information Management segment of the enterprise software industry. In fact, our total Officer Team now has over 100 years of combined senior management experience leading high tech organizations – something else that sets NRX apart as an industry leader.”

Richard Neidert is a professional engineer and technology industry executive with more than 20 years experience leading companies in Canada’s Technology Triangle through periods of strategic and technological change. Mr. Neidert will lead the NRX Sales, Services and Marketing Teams to ensure strong revenue growth and seamless customer facing execution as NRX scales to meet global demand.

Prior to joining NRX, Dan King was a partner at Lafleur Brown, a full service law firm in Toronto with offices in several Canadian provinces. Mr. King will be responsible for all legal and financial matters affecting the Company’s business, along with its HR and IT functions.

Dennis Wu has over 15 years of experience building world-class enterprise and consumer software. Prior to NRX, he worked at BackWeb Technologies and Symantec Corp. He will be responsible for all aspects of product development including design, development, testing and support.
